

The WSU Cougar Summer Music Camp offers need-based scholarships to support individuals who demonstrate financial need and are committed to achieving their musical goals. These scholarships are intended to assist in covering the costs associated with participation in our camp, ensuring that all aspiring musicians can develop their talents, regardless of their financial background.

Eligibility and Application Process: To apply for a need-based scholarship, applicants must submit a brief (one page max) explanation of the following:

1. The reasons for seeking financial assistance through the scholarship.
2. How receiving the scholarship will contribute to their ability to achieve their musical aspirations.

Deadline: The scholarship application deadline is May 29, 2026

Submission Instructions: Please email your application to Martin King at martin.king@wsu.edu. Do not register for camp until you hear from me with the status of your scholarship award. I will evaluate scholarship applications weekly in the order they are received and notify applicants if they are receiving a scholarship. The deadline for scholarship applications is May 29, and final scholarship notifications will be sent out June 1, giving all applicants seven days to register before the June 8 deadline.

Award Considerations: Scholarships will be awarded based on financial need and the applicant's commitment to their musical development. We encourage all interested individuals to apply, and we will do our best to accommodate as many deserving candidates as possible. Since scholarship funding is finite, we may not be able to accommodate all requests. Please apply early for the best chance to receive scholarship funding because scholarship applications will be considered in order until funds are exhausted.

For any questions or concerns about the scholarship process, please contact Dr. Martin King at martin.king@wsu.edu
